'JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Jock McIntyre, Editor.

By last reports, Agnes, the baby girl and Grandpa Pete, are just fine, but they're not so sure about Papa Art.

Kitchen hardware and gadgets—an extra pot or pan, a special knife, etc. make life much easier and results much better.

Skating outfits. We have only 4 sets, 2 men's, 2 boys', at a good price. You may not be able to get skates next year.

Meat saws—16" and 22" at special prices—We also have meat blades 5/8" and 3/4" punched to desired length.

Suggestion to the Ladies. "Salvage Committee in Regina is collecting old envelopes for wads in gun cases. One girl on the committee said she would turn in her old love letters because "they're real dynamite"—Regina Leader-Post.

The local ladies should be able to end the war if they produce some of their epistles from Champion men.

We are not wishing you any bad luck but we hope it gets cold enough to sell you a tank heater.

Weasel traps—the season is ripe and the snow will come later—also a few second-hand badger traps at reduced prices.

"Darling, I could sit here and do nothing but look at you forever."
"Yeah, that's what I'm beginning to think, too."

Private: "I have a pain in my abdomen, doctor."

Army Doctor: "Young man, officers have abdomens, sergeants have stomachs, you just have a bellyache."

Their cars having collided, Jock and Pat were surveying the situation. Jock offered Pat a drink from his bottle. Pat drank and Jock returned the bottle to his pocket.

"Thank ye," said Pat, "but aren't ye going to have a nip yourself?"

"Aye," replied Jock, "but not until the police have been here!"

And then there was the young lady about to be married who spent three months getting her torso ready.

She: "Thanks for the hug."
He: "Oh, the pressure was all mine."

Mrs. Wm. Ulrich, Pioneer Resident, Laid To Rest

Funeral services for Mrs. Wm. Ulrich, pioneer resident of the Champion district was held Wednesday afternoon from the Community Hall Champion. Rev. Peter Dawon conducted the service, assisted by the choir. Pall-bearers were Messrs: Art Hopkins, Frank Caldwell, Fred Wise, Ralph Bond, John McDougall and Martin Clever. Burial was made in Champion cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Snodgrass funeral home, High River.

Mrs. Ulrich passed away Saturday afternoon at Carmangay hospital after a short illness. She was fifty-five years of age, being born at Milan Minnesota, March 4th, 1836, where she lived until 1906 when she married Wm. Ulrich and moved with him in October of that year to the Cleverville district, which was later to become the town of Champion. Mrs. Ulrich's maiden name was Alice Olive Rue.

The deceased is survived by her husband and two children, a daughter, Mrs. John Dillingham, of El Corrito, California, and a son, Arthur of Champion. Another child, Florence, predeceased her in September 1937. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Carrie Ulrich of Long Beach California, and a brother, Hans Rue, of Alhambra, California.

The passing of Mrs. Ulrich is keenly felt in the Champion district. The esteem in which she was held was evidenced in the large numbers of mourners who attended the funeral service to pay their last respects, and the many beautiful floral tributes.

During the many years she spent in the district Mrs. Ulrich was a very active member of the Women's Institute, the Ladies' Aid of the United Church and the Cleverville Pioneer Club. Her main interest lay in the work and activities of the Women's Institute.

Mrs. Ulrich was a pioneer and as a pioneer she knew the hardships and difficulties of coming to a new country as a young married woman and raising a family amid new surroundings. She also knew the experience of being a good neighbor and a good friend to all who needed help in any way. There are many outside of her family and her organizations who will mourn a kindly and gracious lady.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

by Stanley Orris

It might be a good idea if the town fathers would get together all the business men and residents in groups and organize volunteer fire companies and induct them into the mysteries of the fire fighting apparatus in Champion. We would dislike to see a fire start in the town and find that whoever was in charge of the fire apparatus was unavailable and that the rest of us had to stand around like a bunch of dumb ninnies not knowing how to connect a hose or get the water started spouting. This is one instance we believe when an ounce of preparedness is worth more than a pound of regret.

That the forthcoming Victory Loan should go over the top in Champion no less than all over the Dominion is extremely important. It is not only important, it is vital. The honor of over subscribing our quota will be a fine achievement, but it is not only for that alone we must succeed. The real point of the loan is that THE GOVERNMENT NEEDS THE MONEY. It needs it to buy the so necessary machines of war in ever increasing amounts. It needs it to pay the $130 a day to our fellow citizens who are in the battle lines, giving their lives if necessary, so that you and I may follow our ordinary way of life.

Looking back five years ago and comparing it with our every day life now, we can chalk up many changes. Life was pretty easy for us then no matter what our station in it was. Today we are finding life a little more difficult, a great deal more regimented; we are asked to work for, to save for, and to give to, many things that did not enter in our way of life five years ago. These are the results of war. These are the things we must accept and do to win this war. That is why we must get behind every objective and project that has to do with the war. That is why we must keep on giving, lending, saving. We cannot play at being at war.

1942 Victory Loan Committee Formed

Organization to ensure the success of the 1942 Victory Loan campaign is now under way.

At a meeting held last week the following officers and committee men were appointed. Organizer: Ed. Griffin, Chairman: Joe Hagerman, Vice Chairman: D. H. Russell, Carmangay, Secretary: Clarke Rhodes, Assistant Secretary, Mr. Stephenson, Chairman of Publicity Committee: Stanley Orris.

The Carmangay Committee is as follows: James McNaughton, H. S. Parker, Joe McKay and Fred Whitmarsh.

The name of the organizing body is the same as last year, the Champion-Carmangay Unit of the 1942 Victory Loan.

The district boundaries will be the same as in previous drives and it is expected that canvassing will be done in much the same manner.

The canvass officially opens on February 16th and the publicity committee expects to have the district well publicized on the importance of the loan by that time. Several stunts to awaken public interest are being planned. This unit has an enviable record to maintain in subscribing to the Victory Loan. This year when the government needs the money even more than last year, and with our shores now threatened by a ruthless and despicable enemy every effort must be made to ensure the boys have a fighting chance, backed up by the most efficient war equipment in sufficient quantity. equipment in sufficient quantity.

LINE ELEVATORS URGE WHEAT PRICE CEILING OF $1.26

Equality With East Sought for Western Farmers

Uniform wheat price ceiling for all Canada of $1.26 per bushel basis One Northern delivered Montreal is urged in a brief submitted to Ottawa today by The North-West Line Elevator Association. The Government recently set a price ceiling for Ontario wheat of $1.26 per bushel. The indicated ceiling for Western wheat is 82 3/4 cents per bushel, unless action is taken by the Government to set a higher ceiling price.

In a submission to the chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board the Line Elevators' Association states:

"On November 19th we communicated with your Board regarding the ceiling price for wheat. At that time we urged that special consideration be given wheat in view of the fact that wheat was selling at depressed prices in the base period chosen by the Government for setting ceiling prices.

"Subsequently the Canadian Wheat Board, acting as administrator on behalf of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, issued an order defining the maximum price at which Ontario wheat might be sold in Eastern Canada as $1.26 per bushel, basis delivered at Montreal. This was the highest price at which wheat sold in the base period between September 15th and October 11th, 1941.

"In view of the action already taken by your Board in respect to Ontario wheat and having regard to the superior milling value of Western spring wheat we feel that the ceiling price of wheat for all Canada should be not less than the price of $1.26 per bushel at Fort William and Vancouver a minimum of approximately $1.15 per bushel."

"Our Association again desires to state that it recognizes the absolute necessity of price controls which have been established. We, however, wish to draw to the attention of your Board the fact that wheat prices have largely been subject to Government control for several years. The depressed prices prevailing at the time ceilings were established; the national importance of wheat in the domestic economy of the West; the fact that the export sale price is controlled by Government policy as expressed through the Canadian Wheat Board, all coupled with the fact that wheat cannot be grown profitably at prices which prevailed in Western Canada during the base period fully justifies equal consideration and treatment concerning the price ceiling on Western spring wheat.

It would appear that price ceilings will be with us for some time to come and we think it important, the fact should be established that there should be no discrimination between the price of Western spring wheat and Ontario wheat. We urge your Board, therefore, to issue an order defining the price ceiling for wheat for all Canada as $1.26 per bushel basis Montreal subject to reconsideration being given annually in the light of crop production and costs.

"The establishment and announcement of this ceiling would clarify the situation for wheat producers."

How Farmers Are Affected by Consumer Credits

Edmonton, Jan. 15th:—Many enquiries are being made by Alberta farmers and others in regard to the extent of their exemption from the restrictions of consumer credit, made by order 75 of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Farmers, fishermen, prospectors, trappers, hunters and other persons "engaged in primary extractive industry who receive the main part of their income in one season of the year, are exempt from that section of the Regulations which prohibits a merchant from selling goods on extended credit unless one-third or more of the purchase price is paid in cash at the time of purchase, and the balance paid within twelve months.

Such persons, being engaged in "seasonal occupations", may purchase to the extent of $100 a large variety of goods without any down payment by entering into agreements to pay the balance of the purchase price within twelve months or less from the date of purchase.

These goods, purchasable on credit, are set out in Class 2 of Schedule "A" of the Regulations. In addition to clothing, boots and shoes, furs and fur clothing they include: automobile accessories and batteries, air conditioners for home use, electric, gas or oil appliances for domestic use, household bedding, bicycles, power and pleasure boats, household chinaware, vacuum cleaners, clocks, draperies, floor coverings, electric fans and hair dryers, furniture, glass-ware, handbags, electric and water heaters, electric irons, and ironers, jewellery, electric kettles, lamps, linens, luggage, mirrors, mattresses and bed springs, food mixers, motor bicycles and motor cycles, motors and outboard motors, electric heating pads, fountain pens, electric (percolators, phonographs, photographic equipment, radios, razors, electric roasters, sewing machines, silverware, sports equipment, electric, gas or oil stoves, telescopes and binoculars, tires and tubes, toasters, toiletware, electric waffle irons, wall coverings, washing machines, watches, waxers and polishers.

Articles of household equipment purchased on credit must be for household use. Boats and motors for boats to be exempt must be commercial use, or for use in fisheries.

Persons in seasonal occupations may also purchase new or used automobiles (with seating capacity for not more than 10 persons) by paying 50 per cent of the purchase price down, receiving up to 12 months in which to pay the balance if the car is valued at less than $500.00, and 18 months if the value of the car is $500.00 or more.

In order that housewives may continue to buy grapefruit juice at the same prices charged by retailers during the period between September 15 and October 11 last, the Wartime Prices and Control Board has notified brokers and importers that a limited subsidy will be

The Age Of Crested Wheat Grass on The Farm

—“V”—

How long will a field of crested wheat grass last? Experimental data will take us back a number of years. At Mandan, North Dakota, a field was seeded twenty-seven years ago and is still producing.

Fourteen years is not a long time, the original stand of crested grass is still productive.

What about practical farm experience? Mr. James Murray, now principal of the Olds School of Agriculture, should possibly be given credit for starting the first plots of crested wheat grass on farms in Southern Alberta. In 1924 he sent out a few small samples of seed to farmers. From the garden plots the seed was increased, and by 1927 larger fields were planted and these fields have not been ploughed the original stand of crested wheat grass is still productive.

but it is sufficiently long to tell a fairly complete story, and what it means to one applies to many other. The history of the field that the writer has in mind is of interest. It is located in the extreme south-east corner of the Province and was seeded in 1927. Either a hay or a seed crop has been harvested practically every year since. Besides a summer crop, this field was pastured spring and fall and sometimes grazed very closely. It was realized that this heavy grazing reduced the summer yield but good pasture is a valuable asset, especially when near the buildings.

In spite of this treatment, the stand became too thick and on different occasions the double disc was used to cut out some of the extra growth. One spring it was cultivated with a narrow tooth cultivator. It is difficult to say which was the best, or how often this should be done, but it was quite evident that the growth was improved.

But what is the result? The field is still free from weeds of any description. It is at the present time being pastured. In 1942 a crop of seed or hay will be harvested unless the season is very dry. At any rate there will be plenty of pasture close to the barns on which to turn the calves or sheep. When after fourteen years the stand is still strong and vigorous, why worry about 1952!

Wartime Prices

—“V”—

“What is the base price for any article? Is there an official list of prices? Is the price the same in every store? These are the questions people are asking of officers of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Walter S. Campbell, Prices and Supply representative for Alberta makes answer as follows. “There is no official list of prices. The base price has been fixed by the merchant himself. It is the price at which he sold goods during the basic period of September 15 to October 11 last.

“The price may not be the same in every store. If Merchant No. 1 charged during the basic period a higher price for his goods than Merchant No. 2, he can ask the same prices, or lower them as much as he likes. Merchant No. 2 cannot ask more than he asked during the basic period. No one can raise prices; anyone can lower them.”

Dairymen from Chilliwack in the Fraser Valley last week besought an official of the Food Administration for leave to raise the price of milk to consumers from ten cents to eleven cents a quart. They were told that Order 67 prohibits any primary producer who sells to the ultimate consumer from raising prices.

Ottawa gives consideration to cases where “ceiling” prices cause hardship to producers.

A course in “Wise Buying” has been arranged for Winnipeg housewives, by the Education Committee of the Y.W.C.A., with the co-operation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Miss Marguerite Kerr of the education department of one of Winnipeg's largest business firms will deliver a series of four lectures, commencing February 3. Judging the quality of fabrics, the use of substitutes and the observance of price ceiling regulations, will be emphasized in the lectures.

Flashy colors and gaudy patterns in men's socks are due to disappear “for the duration”, when present manufacturer's stocks run out. Colors will be limited to black, navy, brown, green, maroon, air-force blue, khaki, grey mix, blue mix and brown mix. Children's and women's anklets, half socks and knee-length campus styles will be restricted to white and five colors.

The order comes from H. G. Smith, administrator of knitted goods for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Dyes and labor saved in dyeing, spinning and storing will go to aid the war effort.

Fancy boxes and gay wrappings for men's hose are “out” also until the war is over.

There were two babies in the nursery. One of them said to the other:

“I'm a girl, what are you?”

“I'm a boy.”

“How do you know?”

And the other one pulled up his dress and said: “Look—blue boot-les.”

Unemployment Insurance

Carelessness and indifference regarding their insurance books are still common among insured workers, Mr. W. H. Ross, manager of the Employment and Claims Office, stated to this paper.

Many of them fail to get their books from their employers when they leave their jobs to work elsewhere. Instead, they get new books from their new employers and start all over again with their contributions. Others lose their books altogether and fail to report the loss to the Claim Officer so that it may be traced and potential loss of benefits avoided.

Every insured worker should realize that his unemployment insurance book represents real money—money from his own pay envelope and from his employer's bank account—money that should be available for him and his family if he ever becomes separated from his employment.

Mr. Ross pointed out that every insurance book when it is issued is stamped with a serial number and that number is retained by the worker for the remainder of his working years. If, therefore, he obtains a new book each time he changes his employment, he stands to lose the benefits based on the record in the book or books first issued to him.

It must be clearly understood that the Employment and Claims Officer is the only one authorized to replace an insurance book that is lost or mislaid. Consequently, the insured worker who transfers his services from one employer to another should get his insurance book from his employer at the time he quits his job. If he is going to another job, he should take it to his new employer, who will continue the records of contributions on his behalf. If he has no job to go to, the book should be deposited with the Employment and Claims Officer at once. If the book is lost or mislaid, the loss should be reported to the officer without delay. The longer the delay in reporting it the greater will be the difficulty in replacing the records the book contained.

It cannot be too strongly impressed on workers, Mr. Ross concluded, that their unemployment insurance books are their only records of contribution made in respect of them, and that without them, they cannot qualify for benefits, if they become separated from their employment. One insurance book and one serial number is all that any one worker is entitled to. Any worker who secures more than one confuses the records and will suffer loss himself if he ever finds it necessary to apply for benefits.

Jan. 12, 1942.

Dear Mr. Orris:

I have changed address this week, am now at Trenton Composite Training School. The address is:

R131881, Versleys A., A.C.2,
M.P.O. 303, R.C.A.F.,
K.T.S., Trenton, Ontario.

This is a swell station and so far I really like it. I'll be starting on my course soon now and I'm certainly glad, was beginning to get pretty sick of manning depot.

It really knows how to snow and blow here. However, the sun shines at Trenton once in a while, which is more than you can say for Toronto. I spent Xmas at Kitchener with my sister and really had a grand time.

Hope I get posted near home soon, so I can see everyone again.

Sincerely,
Arte Versleys.

1942 Wheat Board Advance of $1.22 1-8 Proposed by Line Elevators

Your Local Line Elevators Association has made a submission to Ottawa on behalf of Line Elevator Companies urging that the Government formulate a wheat policy for 1942 providing:

(a) An initial payment for farmers delivering their 1942 wheat crop to the Canadian Wheat Board of $1.22½ per bushel basis One Northern delivered Fort William or Vancouver.

(b) That the Government accept delivery of 350,000,000 bushels of the 1942 wheat crop on this price basis.

(c) That deliveries and sales of the 1942 wheat crop be segregated from the carry-over of past years and the carry-over be reserved to meet post-war and unforeseen war requirements.

A copy of the Line Elevators' submission to Ottawa may be obtained from any Line Elevator Agent or by writing to
